UK Poultry Club To Give Annual Show

Poultrymen, Farmers, Others Are Invited To Attend Exhibition May 12, 13

The Second Annual Baby Chick show, sponsored by the Poultry club in cooperation with the Department of Poultry of the University and the Kentucky Poultry Improvement association, will be held in the ball room of the Phoenix hotel May 12 and 13.

The show is held as an educational exhibition so that the poultrymen, farmers and others may learn what constitutes quality in baby chicks, and is open to all producers of baby chicks except members of the Poultry club. Anyone may make as many entries as he desires in any class or in all classes. An entry of baby chicks consists of 25 one-day-old chicks.

All correspondence should be addressed to Louis Ison, secretary, care of Department of Poultry, University of Kentucky, Lexington, to whom entry notice should be made.

ANNUAL SPEECH MEET TO BEGIN ON WEDNESDAY

Three Hundred High School Students To Convene At U. K. For Competition In Oratory, Debating

SPONSORED BY U. K. EXTENSION GROUP

Courier - Journal, Lexington Leader Cup Will Be Given Winner

The Interscholastic League Speech tournaments sponsored by the Extension department of the University and under the direction of Mr. Lewis Clifton, director of the Extension department, will begin tomorrow, and continue on through Saturday evening, when the final debate will be held at 7:30 o'clock in Memorial hall.

Approximately 300 students are expected on Wednesday morning to take part in the program consisting of debating, oratorical declamation, oral interpretation, poetry reading, discussion and extemporaneous speaking.

Yesterday at 4 o'clock, the drawing for opponents and sides in the debate tournament were held. Beginning tomorrow, twenty teams will compete in the preliminaries, and the two finalist teams will receive $75 in cash, and the circulating trophy, awarded by the Courier-Journal and the Lexington Leader respectively.

On Wednesday registration will be held in the offices of the Extension department, the first and second rounds of debating, and, at 7:00 p. m. in Patterson hall, and informal reception for the visitors by the University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Extemporaneous speaking, discussion, oral interpretation, poetry reading, oratorical declamation, and the third and fourth rounds of debating constitute the program for Thursday, which will be completed by an informal dinner at the Commons for the high school speakers and their chaperones.

On Friday, the fifth and sixth rounds of debating and the semi-finals will be held. If only two teams remain after the sixth round, the semi-finals will not be necessary. The tournament will be concluded on Saturday evening with the final debate in Memorial hall.

The last meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Freshman group will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday in the Woman's building.

All-Campus Dance To Be Friday Night

The bi-weekly All-Campus dances will be resumed this week. The next will be held in the Alumni gymnasium Friday night from 8 until 10:30 o'clock. Tommy Marshall and his orchestra have been engaged to play for the dance and the admission will be twenty-five cents.

Journalism Frat Announces "Campus Sweetheart" Contest

Petition Containing Twenty Names Must Be In Kernel Office By Saturday

Announcement of the "Campus Sweetheart" contest to be sponsored by "Sourmash," student humor magazine, was made last night by Ross Chepeleff, chairman of the committee in charge of the contest.

As was announced in the last issue of "Sourmash," this contest will be conducted to determine the "Sweetheart" of the University. A full page picture of the winner will be published in the next edition of the magazine, which will be released on May Day.

All men students will be eligible to vote for the "Sweetheart." All candidates must turn in a petition with twenty signatures on or before Saturday, April 4, to Ross Chepeleff at the Kernel office. The ballots will be cast on Wednesday, April 7, at the University post office.

Any women student at the University is eligible for the contest, providing their petition is turned in on time with the required number of signatures. No petitions will be considered after Saturday at noon. "Sourmash," the student humor magazine, is published by Delta Sigma Chi, men's journalism fraternity.

Ag Students Discuss Demand for Plans

The continued demand for farm building plans is being met by the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky as shown by the fact that 250 sets of plans have been sent out within the last year, one-fourth of them being for tobacco barns.

A total of 660 plans were distributed to small farms in 18 states last year. As a result of these plans a large number of poultry houses, dairy barns, hog houses, general barns and dwelling houses are being constructed throughout the state.

BANQUET GIVEN BY STROLLERS

Fifteen Are Awarded Certificates Of Membership; Mary Lyons Is Speaker At Meeting

Fourteen new members of Strollers, student dramatic organization, were formally recognized and given certificates of membership at a banquet and dance held Friday evening at the Patio.

Tom Atkins, president of the organization, acted as toastmaster. Miss Mary Lyons, adviser of Strollers, made the principal talk of the evening. Miss Lyons, a Stroller alumna and one of the most prominent actresses produced by the organization, reviewed past Stroller productions and urged the new members to cooperate in every way for the advancement of the organization. Formal presentation of the membership certificates was made by Miss Lyons. Mrs. P. K. Holmes, assistant Dean of women, also made a short talk.

New members are: Ed Wehle, Antoinette Bergeron, Joy Edgerton, Martha Records, Mary Elizabeth Norvell, Morton Potter, Dorothy Wunderlich, Katy Woodburn, Eloise Carrel, Buddy Warren, Sam Bowman, Helen White, Lloyd Langston and Willetta Tucker.

TAYLOR TO SPEAK

Dean W. S. Taylor of the College of Education will speak before the Woman's club of Paris on the "Other Half of Education" Wednesday afternoon, April 1.

News Cameraman To Take Pictures

A representative of the Universal News Reel company will be on the campus at 1:30 p. m. today to take pictures of members of the girl's Physical Education classes and the Woman's Athletic association of the University.

Miss Rebecca Averill asks that all members of the Physical Education classes and the W. A. A., who will be able to be present at this time, to report to her during the morning at her office. The only requirement for entrance in this exhibition is that the regulation gym uniform must be worn.

The cameraman requests that at least 75 girls be photographed. This makes it necessary for Miss Averill to see all the girls that can possibly report in the morning so that she can make arrangements for the pictures.

ALL-CAMPUS

DANCE, FRIDAY NIGHT,
8-10:30 P. M., Men's Gym

PLANS FINISHED FOR ODK-CWENS SONG CONTEST

Competition Will Start At 7 P. M. To Avoid Any Conflict With Junior Hop

NUMBER OF SONGS SUNG IS OPTIONAL

Committee Announces That Formal Attire Will Be In Order

Definite plans for the annual O. D. K.-Cwens All-Campus sing, to be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, April 7, in Memorial hall, were made at a meeting of the committee Friday. It was formerly decided to have the sing on Monday, April 6, but the Tuesday date was finally decided on.

Contesting groups are requested to hand in a list of songs that they are to sing as well as the approximate number of voices to be in their group by 10 p. m. today, to some member of the sing committee. Members of this committee are Sam Warren, John McKinney and Ann Lang.

A choice of singing two or three songs is allowed for all contestants. If only two are sung, they must be the "Alma Mater" and "Fight, Kentucky, Fight," with two verses of the Alma Mater compulsory. Groups must not have more than twenty-four or less than eight singers. Girls' groups must sing unaccompanied while boys' groups may sing with or without accompaniment.

As the sing will precede the Junior Prom, to be held the same evening, formal attire will be in order. The committee has announced, and a group of formal patrons and patronesses, composed of deans of the colleges and the administrative staff, will be present. Contestants are requested to be on time, as is planned to begin promptly at 7 o'clock and finish by 10 o'clock if possible.

Cwens, honorary sophomore women's organization, will award a cup to the winning girls' group and Omicron Delta Kappa will award a cup to the winning boys' group. It is planned to arrange the shields of the various contestants on the stage, and each respective shield will be lighted simultaneously with the performance of each group.

Judges for the sing will be selected from outstanding music teachers and connoisseurs of the fine arts throughout the state. The purpose of the sing is to promote interest in singing in fraternities, sororities and independent groups at the University.

SENIOR CLASS BALL COMMITTEE CHOSEN

The committee to make arrangements for the annual senior ball have been appointed by Elvis J. Stahr, president of the senior class. The chairman of the committee is Dick Boyd, a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity. The other members of the committee are William Swisshelm, Sigma Chi; Louise Payne, Delta Zeta; Sam Warren, Kappa Sigma; William Butler, Sigma Chi; and Lillian Holmes, Alpha Gamma Delta.

The senior ball will be held during Commencement week.

FELLOWSHIP IS AWARDED

James S. Calvin, Hickman, graduate fellow in the psychology department, has just been awarded a laboratory assistantship in the department of psychology at Yale university for next year.

U.K. GRADS GET APPOINTMENTS

Hutson, '17; Tapp, '21; Finn, '22 Are Officials In The U. S. Department Of Agriculture

Three graduates from the College of Agriculture recently have been appointed to higher positions with the United States Department of Agriculture. These men are J. B. Hutson, '17; Jesse W. Tapp, '21; and William Finn, '22.

Mr. Hutson was appointed assistant administrator of the agricultural adjustment act last week by Howard R. Talley, acting administrator.

Mr. Tapp will have charge of marketing agreements and orders under section 32 of the AAA as amended, surplus removal programs and Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation.

Mr. Finn is one of the representatives appointed by the head of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics to introduce the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to Experiment Station officials and heads of the county agents. Mr. Finn spoke at meetings held last Friday and Saturday in the Dairy building to clean up questions and introduce the BCDA.

STUDENT OPINION

To the Editor:

It is apparent that the proposed Student Union Building which has been a dream in the minds of the campus organizations for the last four years will soon become a reality. The tentative plans have been drawn, government appropriation has been procured, and the Student Union bond issue has been sold.

The original purpose of the Student Union Building was to provide a more suitable gathering place to further student interests and activities. This, of course, meant that the building would be constructed for the best interests of the student body of the University and would contain such equipment and provide such facilities as deemed necessary by the committee.

In order to better ascertain the needs and desires of the student body the committee requested advice from the Inter-Fraternity Council, Woman's Self-Governing Association, Student Council, Omicron Delta Kappa, and other student groups. However, this advice has been given no consideration, as is shown by the fact that a few of the higher University authorities have taken the matter entirely out of the committee's hands. The original plans provided for a swimming pool, large ball room, club rooms, student activity rooms, and facilities for University-operated enterprises such as the post office, book store, Kentuckian and Kernel. It was decided that the swimming pool would not be practical due to ventilation and other problems, and the student body was reconciled with the promise of a spacious ball room.

It was recently learned, however, that the afore mentioned University authorities had decided to limit the size of the ball room to that of the Lafayette Hotel ball room and to use the entire basement floor as an arcade for business enterprises. This would make the building partly self-supporting, according to the authorities, but on the other hand would it be a true Student Union Building?

The authorities, when questioned about the matter, reluctantly stated that the ball room would take up too much space and would not bring in enough revenue to merit such installation. They overlooked the possibility of holding Student Union dances as they do in other places where such buildings are located, and bring in more revenue and students into the building than any other one thing they could put in the building. They further stated that the University social functions would continue to be held in the Alumni Gymnasium and that the Student Union Building would be connected to the gymnasium. This is not practical due to the fact that the Athletic Council is going to deny the use of the gymnasium for social functions after the Student Union Building is completed, because of the damage done to the floor of the basketball court.

Therefore, the social function would necessarily be held in a ball room which could not accommodate the crowd, and one of the main purposes of the Student Union Building will have been lost.

Since this is a student project and will ultimately be supported by the students, we should have a voice in the construction of the building, and demand a ball room which would accommodate the large crowds which always attend University social functions.

We realize that we can not make any demands of these University authorities, but we request that they see fit to have a conference with representatives of various student organizations and the Student Union Committee to discuss the plans before they are sent off for final confirmation.

HITLER'S NEW TACTICS WITH THE GERMAN PEOPLE

The disclosure by the New York Herald's correspondent of the fact that the great body of German people are in ignorance of the actual proceedings surrounding the recent occupation of the Rhineland by German soldiers, puts Hitler and his motives and ambitions into a new light.

Heretofore, the fact that the German people themselves stand solidly against war, has been thrust into the background by the more dramatic and formidable actions of the Reichfuhrer. Hitler's relation to Germany, as it stands today, has taken on a new meaning. It must be remembered that Hitler himself is not a native German. If, then, the German people do not want war, would he not be wise in keeping secret any plans or preparations he may have made, or is making for war?

It should also be recalled that Hitler himself has had no military experience other than such as he might have gained as a corporal in the German army during the last war. He knows only of the threat of war as a diplomatic weapon to be held over the heads of other diplomats; he knows not of the strategies of actual warfare. It is highly possible that, such being the case, he is overestimating his country's military strength while underestimating the power of France and the rest.

However, it has been claimed while diplomacy delays, Hitler becomes more strongly entrenched for war, both physically and mentally. It has been said that if England continues to procrastinate, then the smaller countries of Europe will interpret that delay as being favorable, or at least, as being indifferent to Hitler's actions.

We do not believe such is the case with Britain. That nation will always, in our opinion, stand hand in hand with France, at least in war. There is some basis for the French assertion, nonetheless, that a definite movement by England would perhaps be the best thing for Europe as a whole.

How far does Hitler think he can go before he climaxes his actions by throwing Europe into another war? Is it possible that he actually has no desire for combat, but is merely trying to stand up for the rights that Germany may not have had in the past? These are questions which are of general interest to all the world and if the answers to them were known, Europe might once more settle down to a peaceful, normal existence.

Under prevailing conditions, it seems impossible that Hitler could hope to attract sufficient allies in a general conflict to sustain his cause over a period of a year. Of course, it is impossible to ascertain just what would happen between European countries if Germany should set off the spark which would ignite the powder keg, but on the surface of things it appears that not a major state on the continent, or in the world for that matter, would side with Hitler.

In the meantime, aggressiveness continues to be the Reich's chief policy. France and England are bearing the brunt of the diplomatic load, with France, impulsive and irrepressible and antagonistic as ever, acting as the world's mouthpiece. The British are hesitant toward making any definite move in diplomatic circles. England, perhaps, is the force which keeps Germany and France from tearing at each others throat, and as such deserves the commendation of the world.

By ENGY

In the roaring traffic's boom... In the silence of my lonely room I think of writing this column... And the torment won't be through until I finish it... This guy "Bippo," who knocks out the "Lights Out" column, must think he's a poet or else he can copy out of a book with dexterity... One of the S. P. E. boys pulled a fast one the other day on some of his brothers... Saturday night when the "Lucky Strike" orchestra was putting on their program this lad ups and bets two or three of the brothers that he can pick the first five songs that will be announced as the most popular for the week... He won his bet... But he had a cinch bet inasmuch as the same songs that are named on Wednesday night are named on Saturday night... It was not a bad idea... He also stated that if he could get enough odds he would pick the entire fifteen songs.

A comedy short shown at the Strand theatre the other day took a crack at the Sig Eps... They were called the "Order of Red Elephants." I wonder what the meaning of that is?

The Sig Eps threw a nice affair the other night but it was certainly a mass production. Dick Fiddler's band has slipped in the last three years... The confusion on the "no-breaks" was something to write home about... The subject of the "fence" in front of the check-room again comes up for discussion... It may look right for decorating purposes, but from the practical standpoint it ought to be put in the ash can... I guess they'll wait until somebody runs a picket through their stomach before they decide to do anything about it...

By mere chance the subject of the Student Union building again comes to light... It is said that the plans for the building are already completed, but the Student Union committee doesn't seem to know a thing about them... The last time they met was in October... From all indications it is another one of the mere figurehead bodies that are so prevalent in this day and age... Latest reports have it that the building will be placed between Frazee hall and the Alumni gymnasium with an enclosed connecting walk between the gym and the Union... The gym will still be used for dances, inasmuch as they don't intend to build a dance floor in the Union any bigger than the one at the Lafayette hotel... This plan ought to go over big with the students... I guess student opinion on the matter of the Student Union building is so much wasted breath, but then what's the difference, they're only the people who have to pay for the upkeep of the building and that's only a trivial matter... The original stipulation for the Union was $250,000, but that has been dropped to $200,000... That overwhelming amount of money should build a king's palace... O. D. K. has been fighting for a Student Union for years, but I guess they'll get a chance to O. K. the plans after they are finished... Maybe... And maybe the Student Union committee will get a glance at them—at the proper time... All the bonds for the Union have been bought by some insurance company.

More about the Union later... From all indications the maternity ward of the Good Samaritan hospital has been opened to male patients... Something ought to be done about the picture shows that are brought to the local theatres... I guess the persons in charge figure that their monopoly of the theatre business in this town gives them the privilege to bring movies here after they have been shown in surrounding towns three to five months previous... But then that is one of the things in "business"... Last Thursday's election was certainly a farce... Two girls nominated for Junior Prom queen... Interest in campus activities around here is certainly overwhelming... Maybe the Student Council won't have to hold a May Queen election... Maybe no one will be nominated... There will be an All-Campus dance Friday night, April 3... Tommy Marshall's band will pound out the rhythm... There ought to be a law against Sundays... They are the longest, dullest days of the year... The saying should be "blue Sunday" instead of "blue Monday"... Only eight more days until Spring vacation will rear its lovely head.

U. K. IS SPIRIT—MEVEY

In the words of Pres. Frank LeRond McVey: "The University of Kentucky is not only the buildings and grounds located in Lexington, not merely the faculty and the student body, but is all these and more. The University has a material form, but the real University is the spirit which has for its aim the growth and development of all of the people who live within the borders of the Commonwealth of Kentucky."

"The University of Kentucky numbers as its friends, people of all races and all creeds, rich and poor, weak and strong, and it attempts to serve all people who call Kentucky 'home.' The University of Kentucky has a warm feeling for the institutions that minister to the public good; it pledges its full cooperation to all organizations that are working for the goal toward which the University of Kentucky itself is striving."

CUT-RATE DRUGS

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JOE QUINN
Kernel Sports Editor

This year seems destined to be one of the innovations in University sports. First, a varsity boxing team was instituted on the campus for the first time, and now a movement is underway to organize a University swimming team to compete in dual meets against nearby collegiate clubs. In fact, a team has already been banded together and will make its debut under the name of the U. K. Independents against Eastern State Teachers' College on Friday night.

Bob Freeberg, the Des Plaines, Illinois, merman, has been instrumental in rounding up the local talent and arranging for the opening meet. It is no simple task to introduce something like a swimming team and get the Kentucky collegians to work up enough ambition to participate. But thus far, Freeberg has been successful.

Included in the talent that will perform against the Maroon varsity is Sherman Hinklebein, varsity football center, who holds several breast stroke records in Louisville, his home town. Hinklebein is good enough to teach swimming at one of the Falls City clubs during the summer and was formerly a member of the Hoosier Athletic Club's swimming team which is well-known in the Middle West.

Another able performer who will compete with the Kentucky splashers against Eastern is Jimmy Westbrook, whose specialties are the free style dash events and the back stroke. Westbrook, who is also 145-pound intramural boxing champion, won several titles in Northern Kentucky last summer and before that was a record holder in his native North Carolina.

Joe Bosse and Bob Sherman, both of whom earned letters at Roger Bacon high school in Cincinnati, for their swimming ability, will also perform as will Bill Dyer, Dossett Reid and Freeberg, all taking part in the racing events. Tom Riley, a Lexington boy, who acted as life-guard at Lake Herrington last summer, is another fine prospect.

Lagan Hay and Tommy Rentz will be the Kentucky standard bearers in the diving events and both boys will have an excellent chance to win as they both have had considerable experience.

Of course, the main handicap that the Kentuckians face is the fact that they have no facilities for practice. With no swimming pool at the University and none in town, the team, as a unit has had no opportunity to get into proper swimming condition. Some of the boys have worked out, individually, during the past few weeks in Louisville, Cincinnati or Richmond, but none of them is in the best shape.

However, it may be possible that individual brilliance may make up for lack of training and give the U. K. Independents their first triumph.

Last week's best story was the one which featured one of the campus belles of the less intelligent variety who was electioneering for one of the junior prom queen candidates.

It was getting rather late and the polls were due to close shortly when the girl conceived a brilliant idea for coralling a goodly number of votes at one killing. So she marched down to Stoll field and without further ado approached Chet Wynne, and with what was evidently meant to be a coy smile asked, "Would you mind letting the junior football men off for a little while so that they can come up and vote for the prom queen?"

What Coach Wynne replied has not yet been learned.

FOLK FESTIVAL IS POSTPONED

Fear Of Spinal Meningitis Moves Officials To Call Off Festival; Date To Be Announced Later

The Folk Festival, scheduled to be held at the University April 2-4 was postponed indefinitely Saturday by University of Kentucky authorities, acting on the advice of Dr. A. T. McCormick, secretary of the state board of health.

Dr. McCormick said that although there is no evidence of spinal meningitis in this locality, several teams expected to participate in the event are from areas in Kentucky and Tennessee where the disease has been prevalent within recent weeks.

Twenty-six schools from Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, Mississippi and Alabama, had been invited to send teams to the festival. The festival was to have been sponsored by the University and the Conference of Southern mountain workers.

Students Go Nuts Seeing the First Signs of Spring

By OTIS LEE HARRIS

If you see a co-ed waving her arms and snapping her fingers like a "hot-cha" dancer and her boy friend acting like a deaf and dumb man stuttering, don't be alarmed, it's just a part of your college education.

If someone runs up to you, places one hand above the other and starts wiggling their fingers, don't look too blank when they ask you what it is. It's the rain raining and the grass growing.

Yes, he's nuts and you will be too, if you wait for the second demonstration—and you will. He extends his left arm outward and waves at it with his right hand. He asks you

LAST FORUM IS TONIGHT

"Am I Right About My Way Of Life" To Be Discussed By Dr. Robert Miles At Patterson Hall

The last of the Y. W. C. A.-Y. M. C. A. forums will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in Patterson hall, under the leadership of Dr. Robert Miles, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The topic to be discussed is "Am I Right About My Way of Life?"

Dr. Miles is a leader in student organizations, and will discuss questions which are of interest to a college group. A philosophy of life, and a method of dealing with the questions which affect the college student will also be discussed.

Previous forums have been on the questions of Campus Politics, Militarism, the Negro, and Social Relations, under the leadership of Dr. Amory Vandenberg, Dr. Esther Cole, Miss Augusta Roberts and Dr. M. M. White, and the last forum will review these questions and attempt to deal with them.

Frances Kerr, president of the W. S. G. A., will introduce Dr. Miles. Other chairmen of the forums have been Martha Pugett, Theo Nadelstein, Don Reister and Jimmy Stephens.

U.K. Phi Delta Phis Go To Initiation

Lon Rogers Is On Program Of Annual Ceremony At University of Missouri

Jack Kyser, president of Breckinridge Inn of Phi Delta Phi and active members Earle Cole and Jay Lucian, accompanied Lon Rogers, province president of Phi Delta Phi to the annual spring initiation at the University of Missouri at Columbia, Saturday, March 28.

In keeping with an annual custom of the fraternity, Honorable William F. Frank, of the Supreme Court of Iowa, was initiated. Mr. Frank was guest of honor at the banquet which followed the initiation and was formally welcomed to the fraternity at that time by the Honorable Guy B. Park, Governor of the State of Missouri.

Speakers on the program included Lon Rogers, of Lexington, Ky., Dean Masterson of the Missouri School of Law and Clarence Woolsey, president of Tideman Inn of Phi Delta Phi who served as toastmaster. The banquet was attended by 200 active and alumni members.

SHOP SIGHTS

By BETTY EARLE

Saw lots of neck-nacks today that could be called bargain, what-nots, and "crutches." (Crutches are things that sort of give "pep, vim, and vigor" to last year's spring suit or dress.)

Denton's have some tricky new dog pins on the front counter and since everything seems to have a "back to nature" idea—I mean animals and flowers and that sort of thing—you might put one on the plain white blouse you have and don't know what to do with. If you prefer horses, try a horse pin, or a bracelet. Then there are clever belts with a stirrup to decoration to match the rest of the horsey things.

for 24 hours a day--

We put the OK in cooking at

The White Spot

103 E. MAIN

After the Game—After the Dance—or any time

New hankies sometimes set you off, too, and Denton's have some lovely linen ones with sprays of flowers applied in the corners.

Down at Purcell's you can find a bargain in scarfs...small silk ones with wire-haired terriers sprinkled over them...57c...the edges are hand-pleated, too. And there's also a counter of purses that might interest you. Of course, you don't want to spend much for just an ordinary purse and these are keen at the price—97c!

Mitchell, Baker, and Smith are having a hosiery sale that is really valuable...Phoenix hose at 79c and three pair for $2.25. About this time the Christmas perfume should be running out and Mitchell's have a fine variety to supply you.

If you have a yen for something new and different, go to Woff-Wile's and see their coat lapel watches...yes, even for us girls! Then there's a sale of stationery for 59c...it's Whiting and Cook's and Monig's, so you can depend on it.

Meyer and Hinkle has exactly the dress you've been looking for—the kind of linen you can wear to a summer bridge party or a country club golf luncheon and still feel as well dressed as Mrs. Astorbilt, perhaps better, because you'll be cool and comfortable. These dresses are hand-blocked linen at $10.95 and are in most any color we persnickety women could concoct. There was a yellow and brown Egyptian design; a white one with green and black jacket; and the prize—a brown and white with figures that looked like rope twisted into the shape of an S—stitched neckline and pocket and narrow patent leather belt.

Perhaps you're searching for a formal for the Junior Prom. Have you looked at Shipp's? In crepe there is a water color print on a white background with narrow braided straps. The white celanese veil one with green, orange, and black stripes (very narrow, of course) zigzagging across it and a round collar of green taffeta look my eye, too. (Please don't errick "Where did it take it?") A turquoise chiffon model with two tiny straps holding up the double row of narrow ruffles across the neck and down the back was the top. The skirt ruffles were put on in a unique way...an inverted V-shape.

And last, but never the least, the men! Kaufman's are featuring the latest thing in shirts...homespun weaves matched with polkadot ties. They say, too, that gabardines are done in herringbones, stripes, and checks. The new Beau Brummel tie with large squares of two colors alternating up and down it is called "The Riskey."

BORN FOR GLORY

Each puff less acid A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

The simple mechanical details of cigarette manufacture are of surprising importance. Upon them depend the physical properties of the cigarette, such as weight, size, firmness, moisture-holding properties, uniformity of fill, uniformity of product—all of which have a far-reaching effect on the character of its combustion and the constituents of its smoke.

In the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes all of these properties have been standardized with care for the perfection of A LIGHT SMOKE.
